Commerce and Industry Division Of Chest Drive Opened Locally

The Commerce and Industry Division of the 1953 Community Chest fund-raising campaign is operating at full throttle today, as Commerce and Industry Chairman Paul Loranger kicked off his division this week.

In his address before his committee, members at the Division's kick-off meeting, held at the Lone Pine Inn this week, Loranger stated that the Commerce and Industry campaign in Torrance this year must be a successful one.

"The Commerce and Industry quota of $1548 must be met during the coming campaign if the city of Torrance is to raise its quota of $15,486.

Predicts Success
"With the influx of new business in the city of Torrance during the past year we should have no trouble in reaching and going well over the top of our assigned goal," he said.

Loranger went on to show that with the increase of population in the city of Los Angeles in the past twelve years the Community Chest health and welfare services are at new breaking points and that new money and more money was needed to maintain the 164 health and welfare services in the Los Angeles Community Chest.

Second to Start
The Commerce and Industry division is the second unit of Torrance's Community Chest campaign to go into action. The Advance Gifts division is already in the field.

The main job of the Commerce and Industry division is to solicit funds from commerce and industry in Torrance and with the list of these businesses, the 20-member Commerce and Industry Division will call on 86 prospects during the coming campaign.

Torrance's complete Community Chest campaign will be in operation by the first of next month, as the Business and Residential divisions will kick off then.

Winners Named At County Fair

Three Torrance residents were awarded prizes in the Poultry Division of the Los Angeles County Fair, which closed Sunday.

They were M. M. Mosher, 2804 Albert St., whose Muscovy White ducks were awarded five blue ribbons and who won three first places for mallards; Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Conkling, Box 118, Torrance, who received four first places for the Emden Geese which they exhibited and three blue ribbons for their White Chinese Geese.

HUNTING ACCIDENTS
Sixty per cent of all hunting accidents in 1952 occurred during the first nine days of hunting seasons, reports the National Rifle Association.

Columbia Steel Wins National Safety Honors

A National Safety Council "Award of Honor" for 17 months of accident-free operation of the Torrance works of Columbia-Geneva Steel was awarded General Superintendent Don Rice in ceremonies here last week.

The "Award of Honor," the highest award made by the National Safety Council, was presented to the local steel mill for completing 3,513,436 man-hours without a disabling injury during the 17-month period from July 6, 1951, to Dec. 2, 1952.

Presenting the award was A. M. Smith, member of the advisory board of the council and president of the Southern California Industrial Safety Society. Rice accepted the award on behalf of the employees of the Torrance mill.

Observing the presentation were Charles Monaghan, E. E. Wilson, Frank Smith, W. T. Ayers, and Jess Guillen, members of the joint management-union safety committee. Also on hand for the brief ceremony were Harriet Cook, rescue squad chief; Don Hyde, superintendent of industrial relations; George Steele, president of Local 1414, USA-CIO; and Robert Wilson, president of Local 2588, USA-CIO.

City Building Official Attends Code Conference

James S. Dresser, city building inspector of Torrance, will attend the annual Business Building Officials Conference being held in Pasadena Oct. 6-9, 1953. This organization is responsible for the Uniform Building Code, which is the code of Torrance as well as 600 other cities and counties in 40 states and two territories. Dresser will participate in the discussion concerning revision to keep the building code of this city up to date, especially insofar as requirements for safety to life and property from fire and other hazards are concerned.

King Concludes Long Study on Tax Laws

Following final hearings early last week of the sub-committee on Administration of the Internal Revenue Laws, Congressman Cecil R. King left Washington for home and a series of meetings during the next three months which will bring him in personal contact with the people of the 17th District until Congress convenes again early next year.

The first public appearance of Congressman King in the district will be at the homecoming dinner to be held Saturday night in the Torrance Civic Auditorium.

During the weeks to follow the veteran legislator is scheduled to address and meet with various groups and organizations in Torrance and elsewhere throughout the 17th Congressional District.

As a ranking member of the powerful Ways and Means Committee, King has just concluded one of the most extensive studies ever conducted by this group.

While other committees had closed down with the adjournment of Congress, the Ways and Means Committee continued with its public hearings on the subject of the revision of the Internal Revenue Laws.

More than 500 witnesses were heard on this subject alone, making it the most extensive committee hearing in the history of Congress. Every branch of industry, from watchmakers to builders of ocean liners, appeared to present their views, problems and recommendations.

The hearings were conducted during the summer months so that the committee could prepare and present its findings to the full Congress when it convenes again in January.

New Laws Urged
Legislation to amend the Internal Revenue Code already recommended to the committee by Congressman King, includes:

1. Increasing income tax exemptions from $600 to $1000 for each taxpayer and an additional exemption of $100 for each dependent.
2. Permit deduction by taxpayers of the cost of providing care for children under 14 years of age, if such cost is for the purpose of enabling the taxpayer to be gainfully employed.
3. Allow as a worker's deduction the cost of transportation to and from place of employment.

Dr. Vincent Brushwyler, general director of the Conservative Baptist Foreign Mission Society will be the speaker at the quarterly rally of the Conservative Baptist Mission Societies at the Huntington Park Baptist Church, October 13th. This will be an all day rally with a banquet in the evening. Reservations for the banquet must be made in advance and persons interested are urged to contact Mrs. George Shockey, Frontier 4-3628.

Work nights have been scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday with Saturday as an all-work day on the new chapel unit being constructed on Sharynne Lane, Seaside Ranchos just east of the Seaside Elementary School. The South Bay Baptist Church parsonage is located at 4560 Mindora Drive, Sepulveda Gardens directly north of the church property.

Bible study and prayer service will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the adult Sunday School classroom of the Christian School. Choir rehearsal is at 8:30 p.m.

Godlessness of Disease, Death Lesson-sermon

Is mankind the helpless victim of sin, disease, and death? Are they of God? Can these evils be scientifically overcome? These challenging questions are thoroughly discussed in the Sunday Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ. Scenat. The subject is "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?"

The Golden Text from Psalms (87:1, 2) reads, "God be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us; that thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations."

In a Lesson-Sermon citation the Psalmist says, "Hearken unto the voice of my cry, my King, and my God; for thou thee will I pray . . . For thou art not a God that hath pleasure in wickedness: neither shall evil dwell with thee" (Ps. 5:2, 4).

"There is neither a present nor an eternal copartnership between error and Truth, between flesh and Spirit," writes Mary Baker Eddy in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures."
